CHRISTMAS SEALS DRIVE UNDER WAY

When we pay tribute to the memory of our nation's fighting men on Saturday, December 7, we might also pause to pay tribute to another of the nation's veterans' efforts — the penny Christmas Seal.

That reminder to the public was given this week by Mrs. Lewis M. McCall, Albany Christmas Seal chairman for the Alameda County TB and Health Association. She noted that Saturday will mark the 51st year since the colorful bits of gummed paper began to be sold to help fight a deadly enemy — tuberculosis.

It was at noon on Saturday, December 7, 1907, that a woman took place at a table in the corridor of the Wilmington, Delaware, Post office to sell the nation's first Christmas Seals.

The suggestion to buyers of these first penny stickers was: "Put this stamp with message 'Fight the tuberculosis fight and keep the New Year better.'" — the "white plague" — was killing Americans at the rate of 100 a day in 1907. Most people thought of the disease as something that could never be cured.

For more than a half century, Americans have been buying penny Christmas Seals to finance the fight against TB and to bring to brighter their Yuletide.

But though tuberculosis no longer is the killer it once was, Mrs. McCall pointed out, it still remains one of the nation's major health problems.

There still are 150,000 people who have the disease. Another 100,000 Americans have the disease in its active, infectious form, but do not know they are victims.

Christmas Seals raised the funds to lower the TB death toll, Mrs. McCall stressed. Those who buy in 1957 will be carrying on a battle which began 51 years ago to keep lowering the statistics.

Old "St. Nick," himself, will be present and will toss candy to lucky boys and girls as he glides around the pool on his floating sleigh. This all-new show is the finest kind of Christmas entertainment for the entire family.

Albany Entertains Six American Field Service Foreign Exchange Students

Six American Field Service foreign exchange students representing six countries discussed their first impressions of the United States at a special meeting of the Albany American Field Service Committee held at Albany High School on Tuesday evening, Nov. 19.

Representatives from Albany's service clubs and organizations were invited to meet these students and acquaint themselves and their organizations with the A.F.S. Exchange Student Program. They learned that the A.F.S., a worldwide community sponsored program that works through the high schools, is supported by donations made by local clubs.

Mr. Roy Harford, chairman of the A.F.S. Committee of Albany, welcomed the assembled guests; Mrs. Russell Prescott, area director of the program, explained it's work; Mr. William G. Woolworth, master of ceremonies, introduced the six students who are now living with families in Berkeley, Albany and El Cerrito. Accompanied by their American brother or sister, the following students told about their first encounters with the American language and schools, and with American teenagers: Ilter Turan, Turkey; Mariuka Gahndo, Spain; Luigi Ostello, Italy; Helen Colvin, New Zealand; Marinette Jognex, France; and Marianna Riekkinen, Finland.

After the discussion, Kenneth Logan, an Albany High School senior who spent the summer with a West German family, showed motion pictures of his experiences during his two month stay in Europe.

Dessert and coffee were served by the Albany hostesses: Mrs. Dnane Clements, Mrs. Richard Lynch, Mrs. Laurence Collins, Dr. Florence Harris, Mrs. William G. Woolworth and Miss De Vere Watt.

The following Albany High A.F.S. Club members served punch: Lynne Klein, Mary Bennett, Karen Peterson, Karen Blank, Sydney Woolworth, Don Klose and David Woolworth.

ALBANY BACKS SPAN RAIL RETENTION

The Albany City Council went on record Monday night in favor of the retention of the rails on the Bay Bridge "until such time as a better system can be developed that will give faster and more efficient service."

The decision came in the form of a resolution backing the East Bay Transit District in its fight to prevent removal of the rails, either by the Key System or the State Highway Commission. It followed a long discussion which included detailed explanations of the problems involved, and the desire to keep the matter open and the rails available, by representative of the Transit District.

Robert E. Nisbet, attorney and secretary of the East Bay Transit District, consisting of Alameda and Contra Costa Counties, gave an outline of the opposition on the part of the State Public Utilities Commission, the State Highway Commission, the City of Oakland and others.

He pointed out that removal of the rails at this time would preclude the possibility of stepped up train schedules for all time and, with more buses in service would add materially to traffic congestion.

Other representatives who spoke were A. O. Olson, representing the engineering firm of De Leuw, Cather & Company, which has compiled a detailed report on the conditions and possible solutions, District Director Col. R. M. Copeland and Director J. H. Arnold. Mayor Howell, Mrs. Zahn and Jerome Blank each asked the speakers numerous questions. The council then adopted a resolution backing the Transit District in its efforts for retention of the bridge rails and trains until other plans can be formulated. It passed unanimously. The City of Berkeley council took similar action at its meeting on Tuesday.

Preceding the regular council meeting the members met in the front office where City Attorney Robert J. Foley presented a tentative ordinance designed to govern liquidation sales within the city and prevent so-called "sharp practices" in the handling of such sales in order to protect the interests of local merchants. Members of the council were very favorably impressed with the terms of the proposed ordinance, but when it came up for discussion in the regular council meeting it was decided to postpone action for one week in order to submit the terms to the city's merchants and to the Chamber of Commerce for their reaction.

In other action the council approved a donation of $150 to the Solano Avenue Merchants Association to help pay for holiday street decorations. It also granted the association permission to use the Solano Avenue lighting posts in their decorative scheme. The association also asked for city assistance in placing the decorations, and the use of the platform and public address system. Owing to some lack of coordination last year in handling of the trees the mayor suggested some check be made on the distribution of activities such as spraying the trees, etc., and asked that this be handled separately. A motion placing these details in the hands of the Mayor was made and carried, 4 to 0. Mrs. Zahn not voting. She said she thought it was unfair to add this task to the mayor's already busy schedule.

Items acted upon at the council meeting of Monday, Nov. 25, included the following:

With the Golden Gate Fields racing program extended another two weeks into the Christmas holidays it was decided to open the city dump from 8:30 to 10 a.m. on week days, in addition to the Sunday hours already listed. It was thought this would not interfere with the race track crowds and would offer relief to those who have to dispose of debris during the week, besides reducing Sunday congestion. The Sunday hours will remain from 8:30 to 3:30.

An item not on the agenda was brought up by N. P. Reckas of the Solano Avenue "Hi-Fashion" store under the "Good of the City." He complained of "outside interests" operating a "liquidation racket" and bring in articles for sale not originally contained in the stocks of the stores being liquidated.

City Attorney Robert Foley was authorized to prepare an ordinance that would regulate the practice of firms handling the liquidation of local stocks.

Mayor Howell stated that surrounding communities have similar ordinances designed to prevent professional liquidators from bringing in their own cheap and inferior materials for sale.

Support for the Alameda County proposal to purchase the Gorin Ranch near Hayward, and the Vallejo Mills site near Niles for recreational purposes was also voted.

Enlistments Now For Naval Service

Chief Winston D. King, Navy Recruiter, room 224, Post Office Building, Oakland, stated today that applications are now being accepted for immediate enlistments due to exhausted waiting lists, and with increased quotas. The waiting list that has been in existence for the past year has been exhausted, and with increased quotas, applicants may be enlisted as soon as their applications have been processed.

Coming at this time, at the end of the mid-term, graduates from high school are particularly urged to inquire into the possibilities of fulfilling their military service in the Navy. The trade training on-the-job or at trade schools, offered by the Navy will not only qualify a man for advancement while in the Navy, but will also give him basic skills which he may later use in civil life if a Navy career is not his choice.

LAW IN ACTION

FINANCIALLY RESPONSIBLE

You can recall the days when you cringed to see a jalopy on the road. For if you crashed into it (or vice versa) you stood to lose; who could collect from an uninsured, financially irresponsible owner or driver?

Well, back in 1951 our lawmakers tried to make such people "financially responsible," and this year the legislature tightened the requirements.

Under the law the Department of Motor Vehicles may suspend an operator's license and any other person's vehicle registration who cannot show that he can satisfy a judgment against him for damages in an automobile accident up to certain amounts. The department may also lift his license if he fails to post security as the department requires. Compliance: Proof that you are insured to the legal extent will do. But beginning next July the present minimums go up to (1) $10,000 for injury or death to any one person; (2) $20,000 for any two or more persons; and (3) $5,000 for damage to property. Besides the cash deposit permitted for other forms of ability to respond in damages goes up from $11,000 to $25,000. At present the law does not distinguish between "owners" and "operators" insurance policies. But the new law will. Under it you may well decide between two types of minimum policies:

(1) An owner's policy. It designates all motor vehicles covered. It insures the person named and others permitted to use the vehicle(s).

Note: California lawyers offer this column so you may know about our laws.

ACCIDENTS

Motor vehicle accidents in the United States during 1955 cost us an estimated four and a half billion dollars, according to the National Automobile Club.

Popular opinion is the greatest lie in the world. — Carlyle.

AVERAGE TRIP

When the average American motorist steps into his car, eight times out of ten it's for a trip of less than ten miles, according to the National Automobile Club.

Rules For Winter Driving Given By Highway Patrol

SACRAMENTO — Winterize your driving habits if you expect to cope with wet, slippery pavements, says the California Highway Patrol.

"Rain in the valleys and coastal regions and snow in the mountain areas call for special driving techniques if safety is to be maintained," declared Patrol Commissioner B. R. Caldwell. "A few simple rules, if followed, will help you winterize your driving."

Caldwell listed the following rules to guide drivers during the winter months.

1. Be sure your brakes, tires, windshield wipers, and steering mechanism is in top condition.
2. Keep all windows and windshield clear at all times. This is particularly urgent before starting out when the windshield and other windows are covered with frost or snow. Peek-hole driving is hazardous; clear the entire windshield and all windows before driving.
3. Slow down in wet weather. Wet pavements are slippery and require extra distance between your car and the one you are following so you can stop in time if an emergency arises.
4. Carry extra clothing or blankets when driving into mountain areas. Check at your local Patrol or Division of Highways office for road and weather conditions before leaving.
5. Know how to install tire chains properly and use them when required to do so.
6. Obey all traffic rules and regulations; drive in the right hand lane except when overtaking and passing another car or preparing to turn left. Move with the normal flow of traffic and properly signal each intention to turn or change lanes.

CHILD SAFETY—Basic requirements when driving with young passengers demand that they be well-disciplined, comfortably seated and that the car not be overloaded, advises the California State Automobile Association. Safety belts and other restraining devices properly installed are also recommended. But making certain that children are well-behaved and remain seated are "musts."

It is common to men to err; but it is only a fool that perseveres in his error; a wise man alters his opinion a fool never. — Sir Edwin Arnold.

Nothing so obstinately stands in the way of all sorts of progress, as pride of opinion; while nothing is so foolish and baseless. — J. B. Holland.

High School Seniors May Enlist in Navy

Their application will be processed and the date the man wishes to enlist in the Navy will be scheduled to coincide with his plans.

the case of the 'dishwater Bond!'

Once a practical, romantic young man (you can be both) married. For their anniversary, being practical, he bought his wife a U. S. Savings Bond. And, being romantic, he slipped it under her dinner plate. Then he forgot it until, drying the dishes, he spied it in the detergent. The Bond looked all washed up. But it wasn't. After a letter from the young man, the U. S. Treasury replaced the Bond with another bearing the original, date of issue—the couple's anniversary. This true story illustrates the safety of U. S. Savings Bonds. Any of your Bonds that are lost, stolen or destroyed will be replaced without charge by the U. S. Treasury. And remember this! Your Government guarantees the principal of your Bonds safe—up to any amount—guarantees sure the rate of interest. So start saving this safe, sure way. Nuclear power now helps serve Northern California

P. G. and E. customers first with privately-financed atomic electricity

Atomic electricity no different

A-electricity is just the same as other electricity. The only difference is that nuclear fuel is used instead of the usual fossil fuels (oil, gas and coal) to make the steam which turns the generators. A-electricity now costs more in the United States than power made in conventional plants. It will not become a basic power supply here until it costs no more than electricity made with fossil fuels or falling water.

The future of commercial nuclear power

G-E and P. G. and E. joined forces at Vallecitos to gain experience and know-how from building an atomic plant and operating it for everyday commercial service. The lessons being learned and the experiments being conducted at Vallecitos are hastening the day when A-plants will become economical. We will be ready with low-cost A-electricity long before the inevitable depletion of the fossil fuel supply.

Thus, P. G. and E. customers may continue to be assured of power ahead of their needs as well as the best possible service at the lowest possible cost.

CIVIL DEFENSE
The family automobile, already equipped with a well-rounded list of activities, has been handed "an essential new chore in civil defense that could mean the difference between life or death," reports the Federal Civil Defense Administration.
In a four-page booklet for the car-owner, entitled "Four Wheels to Survival," FCDA states that passenger cars will be depended upon to move the bulk of the population in any pre-attack evacuation of cities ordered by the government.
In addition, reports the National Automobile Club, the family car may be used for protective shelter during an actual attack.
"Tests under an actual explosion at the Nevada test-site," explains the FCDA, "proved that modern cars, especially those with turret-top construction, give a degree of protection against blast, heat and radiation."

Mulford Would Examine Huge U. of C. Budget

Careful examination of The University of California's record-breaking budget was suggested today by Don Mulford, candidate for election to the Assembly to be voted upon in a special election Dec. 10.

"The University, with its internationally famous scientists and engineers, plays a key role in America's defense, and the people of California realize we must all support the demands now placed upon these leaders to provide a stepped-up training program for our national defense," Mulford stated. "However, we must not lose sight of two facts, 1) that demands created by new defense problems are not used to unnecessarily expand the cost of less important functions of the University, and 2) that basic local problems must also be resolved. I have advocated that payment for services rendered by Berkeley be included in the University's budget recently announced. In addition, the University should also include in the budget, payment for services rendered to the City of Albany."

Bus Driving In Africa

If you ever happen to be driving in Darkest Africa and your car or truck develops a thumping or a brake that slips, forget about it, don't get out and get under.

A bus driver over there just a few months back, according to the National Automobile Club, got out and got under to adjust a brake or two. While he was under, along came a hungry lion and a hungrier lioness. The lioness saw the driver under the bus, decided he might make a tasty morsel, charged in after him, and made a mighty snap.

The bus driver, however, had been warned by the screams of his passengers. He made it to safety in his cab and drove off shakily across the veld.

Returning to the spot a little later, he found the lioness dead. Seemed she had impaled herself on some protruding metal spike under the bus. This time the driver drove off triumphantly, with the giant tawny carcass proudly displayed atop his lion-killing bus.

Corrosion of Battery Cable

Battery terminal corrosion has one effect that often escapes attention until it results in a roadside stall. That, according to the National Automobile Club, is the tendency of corrosion to eat the cable connection.

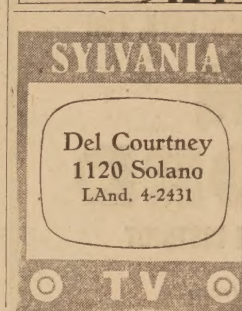

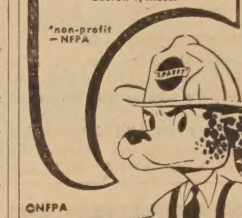

A motorist recently had the terminals of the car battery cleaned. No inspection of the cable was made. A few hours later, right at the height of his satisfaction with a job well done, the cable connection with the terminal broke. A new unit was necessary. Considerable trouble and expense might have been saved had inspection been part of the cleaning work.

LIABILITY INSURANCE

Ninety-seven per cent of cars bought new in the United States are covered by public liability insurance, according to the National Automobile Club.

Venezuela—A Billion Dollar Customer

Venezuela is the leading South American customer of U.S. goods and services and second ranking world customer on a per capita basis. It spent more than $1 billion U.S. in 1956, according to a recent study by an independent research organization.

The study, released by Creole Petroleum Corporation, the largest oil producer in Venezuela, recorded a continuing of trade between Venezuela and the United States since 1945, this progressive South American country's imports to the United States have risen almost 400 per cent, and made possible primarily by its oil production. More than 90 per cent of the dollars spent by Venezuela are obtained from the sale of oil.

United States products imported by Venezuela, approximately the size of Texas and Oklahoma, total $1 billion in 1956. They include agricultural and transportation equipment, construction materials, food and beverages, tires, paper, chemicals and a variety of other items. Venezuela also purchased from the United States an estimated $1 billion of "intangible" services performed by banks, insurance firms, shipping companies, air lines and numerous other institutions.
